Oil For Mediterranean

Barrels of oil are loaded aboard a ship in New York harbor before the boat made a belated departure for Mediterranean ports. A reported slowdown by longshoremen despite a restraining order against their union delayed the departure of some liners. This scene will be repeated much more often as the U. S. steps up its shipments of oil to Europe under a directive from President Eisenhower to ship half a million barrels a day. (AP Photofax)

Angry Hungarians Insist Upon Demands

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 30 (P)—Hungarian students, who spearheaded the anti-Moscow revolt of Oct. 23, defiantly insisted again today on their original demands for an independent Hungary free of Russian troops.

The Communist newspaper Nepszabadsag published today a nine-point program of the revolutionary committee of university students, hundreds of whom gave their lives in the revolt crushed by the Russians early this month.

The students again demanded withdrawal of Soviet troops and asked that arrests of university students and professors be investigated with the "utmost legality." They asked for the release of students after the investigation.

In their renewed demands for the Russians' ouster the defiant students stood shoulder-to-shoulder with still-striking workers, who had joined them at the barricades in the battle of Budapest.

The statement, published by Nepszabadsag without comment, said the students "stand by their program published on Oct. 23. They believe there can be no deviation from it. They deny there are any counterrevolutionary elements among them."

"We want an independent, democratic and socialist Hungary which makes allowances for our national way of life," the student program said. "We are against any rightist or leftist restoration."

The students offered to help in the clearing of rubble and the reconstruction of Budapest and asked that the new Hungarian armed forces include "the best of our workers and youth" as well as former members of the police and army.

Rokossovsky Makes Public Appearance

MOSCOW, Nov. 30 (P)—Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, now a deputy defense minister, made his first public appearance here tonight since his return from Warsaw.

Rokossovsky, the former Polish defense minister rumored to be in line as future head of the Warsaw Pact organization, turned up at a reception at which visiting Romanian Premier Chivu Stoica was present. The marshal wore his Polish decorations.

U.S. Pushes Plan For Refugee Aid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (P)—The government today pushed its Hungarian refugee relief program into higher gear in the hope of clearing some 5,000 refugees for admission to the United States by Christmas.

As the number of Hungarians crossed the Austrian border passed 100,000, American officials said they had ordered cutting of red tape which has slowed down the processing of refugees headed for this country.

Refugees reaching the United States neared the 1,000 mark, meanwhile. The 10th plane landed at McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey this morning to bring the total to 344. Two more planes were due during the day with another 143.

The speedup in processing procedures was the first tangible result of President Eisenhower's recent appointment of Tracy S. Voorhees as relief coordinator. Under the speedup order, officials said visas are being granted in an average of four or five days after refugees first apply to relief agencies.

Student Returns After Haircut

ROMEO, Mich., Nov. 30 (P)—Shorn of his curling pompadour, 16-year-old Robert Phernetton can return to classes at Romeo High School today.

"I'm not happy about it," said Robert after his haircut yesterday. "It'll take years to train my hair again."

Robert was expelled from school Nov. 2 because he refused to comply with a ruling that "Elvis Presley-type haircuts" would not be allowed. Robert's mother, Mrs. Alice Phernetton, took the issue to court and the judge ruled that school officials have the right to set certain standards of personal appearance for students.

Threat To Babies Forces Mother To Cash Bonds

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 30 (P)—Police said today that a wife of a Tinker Air Force Base captain reported a knife-wielding bandit posing as a messenger boy behind her two infant sons hostage shortly before noon and made her go to a bank and cash $980 in saving bonds.

The bandit threatened to cut her babies "to pieces" if she alerted police. She went to a bank and cashed the bonds. When she returned, the bandit hit her with a heavy mixing bowl, took the money and fled afoot.

The victim was Mrs. William G. Yule Jr., 27, who suffered a cut on her forehead.

Her children were 11 weeks and 14 months old.

Apparently the children awoke through the half-hour ordeal.

There are six private American relief agencies in Austria which "endorse" refugees after interviews. These agencies assure U.S. consulate officials that the applicants will have jobs and will not be a public care when they reach this country.

To cut clearance time for the next step, the State Department has instructed consulate officials to substitute a brief security check for the two-year personal history previously required, eliminate a job qualification requirement, and postpone matching individual refugees with specific jobs until after their arrival in the United States.

Upon completion of this procedure, the American consul then decides whether the refugee is entitled to a visa under "escape" provisions of law granting admittance to persons fleeing from behind the Iron Curtain.

Officials said the speedup should make it possible to meet the Christmas entrance goal for all of the 5,000 under the existing U.S. quota.

Officials said some further speedup might be possible, but voiced the opinion red tape already has been reduced to a minimum.

Voluntary relief agencies now operating in Austria are the Catholic Welfare Agency, Church World Services, Lutheran Refugee Service, International Rescue Committee, Tolstoy Foundation and the United Hebrew Immigration Aid Society.

Owner Defends Doberman's Bite

DETROIT, Nov. 30 (P)—Defending his dog's dogbiting talents, Harold E. Wangbichler chose today to pay a $10 fine instead of $5 in pants repairs.

Terry Jeneureau, the plaintiff, displayed a pair of trousers that had two distinct teeth holes in the seat. He said they were put there by Wangbichler's doberman pinscher.

"If my dog bit him, his trousers would have a hole the size of a basketball and some scars to boot," Wangbichler said.

Given a choice in court of paying for repairs or a fine for harboring a vicious dog, he paid the fine, saying, "It's the principle of the thing."

French Accept Oil

PARIS, Nov. 30 (P)—French trade negotiators have accepted Russian offers to increase the flow of Soviet oil to France immediately and raise the level to almost two million tons annually by 1959, official sources said today.

Half Million Barrels Will Be Sent Daily

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (P)—President Eisenhower gave the signal today to ship half a million barrels of oil daily to Western European countries facing critical shortages because of the Mideast crisis.

In answer to Europe's mounting pleas, the President finally ordered into operation standby plans for emergency shipments which had been drafted last August.

Eisenhower acted, informants said, after what he regarded as sufficient backstage assurances that Britain and France would pull their troops out of Egypt.

Diplomatic officials reported from London about the time the White House made its announcement that Britain would withdraw most of its troops by Christmas. France was understood to be planning similar action.

Came By Surprise

Eisenhower's decision nevertheless came as a surprise. Only yesterday top officials said the emergency plan would not be triggered until Britain publicly announced Monday a specific timetable for troop withdrawal.

Overnight Eisenhower administration leaders decided, informants hinted, that invoking the plan in advance would encourage the British government to carry out its tentative promise. Such a move would also help disarm Tory critics who are reported ready to oppose any British withdrawal.

"The United States desires to cooperate as fully as possible," said the White House, "in lessening the effects of the present situation in both producing and consuming countries."

Eisenhower's directive specifically gave 15 U.S. major oil companies permission to pool tankers, production and distribution outlets to meet Europe's oil demands more efficiently.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wy.) assailed the plan and demanded that Eisenhower call Congress into special session to review it.

"I can't help feeling this matter should not be turned over to a group of companies, principal members of which have been sued by the government, first for anti-trust violation and second for overcharging the Navy for oil," he told a news conference.

The senator said that among the companies Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, Socony, Texas Co. and Gulf have been accused of anti-trust violations in a civil suit now pending in the federal court in New York.

He said the agreement outlined by the administration would let them do things they are accused in the suit of having done unlawfully.

In addition, O'Mahoney said Socony and Standard Oil of California and Standard Oil of New Jersey have been accused of overcharging the Navy for oil.

O'Mahoney also said he believes it is necessary to provide the oil in some manner "to prevent an economic collapse of Western Europe."

About 300,000 barrels of extra American oil already are moving to Western Europe via normal commercial channels. This flow will be stepped up to 500,000 barrels daily—and maintained at this rate indefinitely—under the emergency arrangements.

To make these extraordinary shipments possible, American hemisphere production will be boosted by 800,000 to 850,000 barrels, daily, mainly in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Dag Fails To Get UN To Hungary

Couldn't Enter, Secretary Says

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 30 (P)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, who has been trying for almost a month to get U. N. observers into Hungary, reported today that so far he had failed.

He added, in a report to the General Assembly, that he had not been able to get permission to enter the country himself for the investigation the U. N. wants him to make. But he said he had not given up hope.

A source close to the U.S. delegation said the United States was sounding out a dozen other delegations on the idea of introducing a resolution to back Hammarskjold.

UN Troops Set Up Patrol Line In Egypt

EL CAP, Egypt, Nov. 30 (P)—United Nations troops moved across no man's land today and set up a history-making international block between hostile British-French and Egyptian forces—but only after hours of bickering over final arrangements.

A Danish unit of the new U.N. army occupied British front line positions, but there was no immediate word whether they also took over Egyptian positions as had been agreed previously.

British troops were packed and ready to move out at 9 a.m. when a last-minute hitch developed. It was not until 3:45 p.m. that the Danish unit moved up through the Egyptian lines and took over the British foxholes.

A U.N. liaison officer said last minute Egyptian objections caused the delay. There was no clarification as to what the objections were. At Abu Suweir, the U.N. base in the Suez Canal Zone, Egyptian Brig. Gen. Amin Helmy declared "The Egyptians did not prevent the UNEF Danish force from entering no-man's land."

When the Danish unit finally moved in, the British company on the front line leapedfrogged over a second line of emplacements 150 yards to the rear where another British company was entrenched. In effect the British roll back was only 150 yards.

The plan was for the Danish troops to move a platoon across the canal in front of French troops, and set up roadblocks.

British Lt. Gen. Hugh Stockwell said he was not yet certain just what happened on the Egyptian side.

"Whether the Egyptians are taking out a company to match mine, I do not know," he said. "I have fulfilled my contract."

About 400 Danish and Norwegian soldiers of the U.N. force remained camped in Port Said, where they have been marking time for more than a week. They have undertaken no patrol duties. About 700 Yugoslav troops also arrived at Port Said by ship yesterday, but they were to remain aboard ship until their supplies and equipment are unloaded.

Satellite Has Coat Of Gold

DETROIT, Nov. 30 (P)—The earth-circling Vanguard Satellite will be coated in pure gold instead of the shiny, silvery outer coat originally ordered by the Navy.

Brooks & Perkins, Inc., of Detroit, manufacturers of the sphere, said a last-minute Navy change in specifications calls for a gold plating 30,000th of an inch thick.

The first satellite will be completed today. But the first two produced will not be gold plated. They will be used only for static and spin tests.

The Navy gave no explanation for discarding the silvery finish. Brooks & Perkins' officials speculated it is designed to improve the satellite's ability to reflect light. Another reason might be that a gold finish would not tarnish as easily as a silver one.

The first attempt to launch the sphere is expected to be made about mid-summer of next year. The first gold plated satellite is expected to be ready within two weeks.

Pineau Wants Some Points Settled First

Statement Casts Doubt On Reports Forces To Leave

LONDON, Saturday, Dec. 1 (P)—France insisted today there must be a satisfactory settlement in Egypt before French and British forces quit the Suez Canal zone.

The statement was made by French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau as he took off early today for Paris after conferences with the British.

Pineau told newsmen Britain and France never planned to quit Egypt without having "some political questions settled and some military precautions observed." He apparently spoke with British approval.

Complete Identity Of Views — A short time earlier, the British Foreign Office issued a statement saying that, "There was complete identity of view on the next steps to be taken." It did not say what those steps were.

Pineau's statement appeared to cast some doubt over earlier reports picturing Britain and France as ready to withdraw most of their troops from Egypt by Christmas.

Pineau denied that the French government ever agreed to withdraw from Port Said in the canal zone without conditions.

He said also there were many technical problems remaining, that the British and French had been studying them and some ideas had been written down.

"This will allow us to take a common position for the evacuation of the canal, as well as any problem which might arise as regards the Middle East," Pineau said.

At the United Nations, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi charged the British with violating the cease-fire ordered by the General Assembly.

Attacked Gun Position — Fawzi said in a letter to U.N. members that two British fighter planes attacked an Egyptian anti-aircraft position and Egyptian military vehicles east of the Suez Canal.

But tension in the canal zone appeared to be easing off as the U.N. police force established a buffer zone between British-French forces and the Egyptians south of Port Said.

Trouble appeared brewing over another spot in the Middle East—Syria.

Leaders in both East and West expressed fears of a flareup in the strategically located Arab state. There have been reports of military buildups on both sides of the borders around Syria.

A report from U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's office in New York said a U.N. truce team inspected the Syrian side of the border with Israel and found no military buildup.

Also at the U.N., Syria's Farid Zeineddine told a news conference Britain, France and Israel are massing arms to attack Syria. U.N. truce supervisors reported last week there was no buildup in Israel.

Judge Extends T-H Ban On Dock Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP)—A federal judge, saying national security is at stake, today extended the Taft-Hartley ban on the East and Gulf Coast dock strike to 80 days.

District Judge Frederick Van Pelt Bryan's order bars any renewal of the strike before mid-February. He cautioned against slowdowns, which hampered ship movements in New York yesterday and today.

The government complained that any renewed strike could choke off deliveries of uranium and other critical materials to the nation's atomic energy program. However, the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) said its policy—even when on strike—is not to impede strategic military or atomic shipments.

Judge Bryan said his extension of an earlier shorter injunction does not imply "that the union has not attempted to fulfill its obligations" under the court's order.

President Eisenhower last week invoked the Taft-Hartley Act and on Saturday Judge Bryan ordered a 10-day return to work. Sixty thousand dockers from Maine to Texas returned to their jobs under his injunction.

However, Judge Bryan said today the conditions that led to the nine-day strike still exist. He added that "a continuation of the strike will imperil national health and security of the country."

New York port activity was cut to 50 to 60 per cent of normal by slowdowns during the past 48 hours. The New York Shipping Assn. called it "the equivalent of a partial strike."

ILA spokesmen said the union had not directed the slowdowns, but were a spontaneous demonstration of resentment against the court's halting of the strike.

The shippers asked Judge Bryan to specify that his ban against strikes also applies to slowdowns. He told them:

"I am firmly of the view that any concerted attempt to organize or encourage what could be termed a slowdown would be a violation of that order."

Defendant Appeals Rape Case Verdict

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 30 (AP)—A 23-year-old former convict asked the Court of Appeals today to reverse his conviction by three Montgomery County Circuit Court judges of raping a 3½-year-old girl in Silver Spring Nov. 29, 1955.

George Lightfoot Cole Jr. admitted the rape but pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. He was sentenced to death after waiving a jury trial last April and being tried by Judges Stedman Prescott, Patrick Schnauffer and Thomas Anderson.

The slowdown was concentrated along the Hudson River Luxury line piers in midtown. Among big liners delayed in loading or sailing were the Queen Mary, Constitution, United States, Britannic, Roma and Kungsholm.

Other East and Gulf ports reported operations normal.

The ILA originally struck at midnight Nov. 15 seeking a master contract covering all ports of both coasts. Such a master contract later was outlawed by the National Labor Relations Board. However, the ILA continued to strike for other demands, involving call-in pay, sling loads and work gang sizes. Wages were not a major issue.

Black Will Include University Gifts

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP)—Gifts to Johns Hopkins and Princeton universities were included in the will of the late Harry C. Black, admitted to probate yesterday.

The chairman of the board of the A.S. Abell Co., publishers of the Sunpapers, also provided charitable gifts to the Maryland Historical Society, Baltimore's Enoch Pratt Free Library and the A.S. Abell Co. Foundation.

Black died Sunday at his winter home in Florida, leaving an estate estimated in excess of two million dollars.

New Baltimore Hospital Planned

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP)—Work on the new 21-story Mercy Hospital in downtown Baltimore is expected to start late next year.

In the meantime, a hospital committee will attempt to raise $8,000,000 to cover construction costs. This was the goal announced by Maj. Gen. Henry C. Evans, chairman of the special campaign committee of the hospital's advisory board.

Tax Levy Raised

M'Keldin Joins Campaign To Aid Hungarians

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 30 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today urged that Marylanders "join wholeheartedly" in the campaign to give financial relief to Hungarians.

The governor wrote David Halley, state director of the International Rescue Committee on Hungarian Relief, that he would be "delighted to help support the drive."

"All the free world has watched the brave resistance of the Hungarian rebels and seen their patriotic blood spilled in the cause of freedom," he said.

"America, itself a product of rebellion against tyranny and the world's mightiest fortress of freedom, can do much to alleviate the sufferings of these oppressed peoples."

"Indeed, the plight of the Hungarian patriots is the concern of all of us and generous, freedom-loving Marylanders should join wholeheartedly in the campaign to help them financially."

State To Seek Airport Site At Greenbelt

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 30 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin said after an air trip over Maryland today that he will do everything he can to get the federal government to turn over to the state the airport at Greenbelt, Md.

The facility of the U. S. Department of Agriculture was one of numerous projects viewed by the governor and other state officials in a tour that lasted most of the day.

McKeldin said the Greenbelt field cost "about 5 or 6 million dollars" and "is just lying there wasted." He said the state could put it to good use to handle smaller planes now using Washington's crowded National Airport.

"We believe we ought to have it," he said, "and I plan to take the matter up with Department of Agriculture officials and Sherman Adams (assistant to President Eisenhower)."

"If that doesn't work we'll have a bill introduced in Congress." The Agriculture Department operates a research center at Greenbelt, which is about 15 minutes out of Washington on the Baltimore-Washington Parkway. McKeldin said previous efforts to acquire the airfield from the government have been unsuccessful.

Accompanying the governor on the air tour of Maryland were State Sen. Edward Northrop (D-Montgomery), Del. Lloyd Simpkins (D-Somerset), Rudolph Drennan, executive director of the Maryland Aviation Commission, and George Langenfelder, a member of the commission. They traveled in Langenfelder's personal plane, which took off from Friendship at 10 a.m. and returned about 4 p.m.

McKeldin said they had a "delightful time" and an informative trip.

They inspected the Baltimore Harbor Tunnel project from the air, flew over U.S. 50 now being completed as a dual lane highway into Washington and over the Eastern Shore Expressway which will be completed Monday when the final section is opened to traffic. It will run from the Chesapeake Bay Bridge to the Delaware line.

The governor said they also inspected the site at Ocean City where the Aviation Commission wants an airport located and flew over Assateague Island, where the state hopes to build a state park.

Returning across the bay, they flew along the Potomac River and then to Greenbelt, Frederick and Hagerstown, where they toured the Fairchild Aircraft plant.

Ill Motorists Ruled Subject To Prosecution

ALBANY, N.Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—New York's highest court has ruled that motorists who drive with the knowledge they are subject to "blackouts" are liable to criminal prosecution if involved in an accident.

The court of appeals held yesterday, by votes of 4 to 3, that two automobile drivers involved in fatal accidents, allegedly during epileptic seizures, must stand trial on charges of criminal negligence.

Involved in the two cases were Emil Decina, 34, of Buffalo, whose automobile jumped a curb and killed four schoolgirls, and Arthur G. Eckert, 47, of Hicksville, whose car ran off a road and fatally injured a 17-year-old girl.

The prosecution alleged in each case that the drivers had lost control of their vehicles because of epileptic seizures.

Associate Judge Charles W. Frossell, who wrote the majority opinion, said Decina's "awareness of a condition which he knows may produce such consequences as here, and his disregard by the consequences, renders him liable for culpable negligence."

Associate Judge Charles S. Desmond, who wrote the dissenting opinion, contended that reckless or culpably negligent driving "necessarily connotes and involves consciousness and volition."

"One," he said, "cannot be 'reckless' while unconscious. One cannot while unconscious 'operate' a car in a culpably negligent manner or in any other manner."

Old State Law Repeal Asked

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP)—Baltimore Youth Court was asked today to strike out a centuries-old Maryland law providing for criminal action against a white woman who bears a child fathered by a Negro.

Shirley Ann Howard, 20, is charged with bearing a child which the State contends was fathered by John Moses Billy, a Negro. Court officials say it is the first prosecution under the old statute in the history of Baltimore courts.

Miss Howard's attorneys asked Youth Court Judge James K. Cullen to dismiss the case, contending the law "clearly belongs to another era—an era the stench of which we are finally fuming from our country."

Conviction under the law carries as much as a five-year prison term.

The law dates back to 1699, and grows from an earlier statute going back to 1664.

Judge Cullen is scheduled to hold a hearing on the case within the next few weeks.

Gets 10 Years

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30 (AP)—A 20-year-old Baltimore man, described by authorities as intellectually brilliant, was sentenced to 10 years in prison today on narcotics charges.

Judge Joseph L. Carter imposed the term in Criminal Court upon James C. Jensen. He and Rufus Hursey Jr., 17, also of Baltimore, were charged with obtaining synthetic narcotics on a forged prescription after stealing prescription blanks from a druggist's office.

Airman Succumbs

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 30 (AP)—Airman 3C Chester N. Hockenberry, 25, Martinsburg, W. Va., died today at the Carswell Air Force Base hospital of injuries received here in a two-car collision Nov. 18. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George N. Hockenberry of Martinsburg.

The speed of modern life tempts us to think of our goals and to forget the importance of a single step. But the men who scale the highest peaks concentrate on one step at a time.

There seem to be plenty of folks with noble aspirations who rarely go to Church. Some of them may reach their goals; but legion are the others whose "one false step" starts an avalanche of broken hopes.

The steady, sincere, every-Sunday church-goer usually has noble aspirations and a far better chance of achieving them! He has learned to study each step by faith and prayer . . . to test the ground on which he treads . . . to climb with others in a common quest of the summits of life.

Destiny depends on the next step!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Harold Redman Fatally Hurt In Truck Crash

Pinned Under
Runaway Vehicle

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Harold Lloyd Redman, 31, area tenant farmer and trucker, was killed Sunday when the truck he was driving overturned on West Virginia Secondary Route 42-7 in the Petersburg-Maysville section.

State Trooper John Leeson, who investigated after being notified of the accident about six hours after it occurred, said Redman lost control of the truck when he attempted to change gears on a downgrade.

A cousin, Leroy Redman, of near Fisher, who was making the trip with the driver, told Trooper Leeson he jumped from the vehicle when he realized it was not under control. He did not witness the actual crash.

Harold Redman was pinned under the truck when it overturned, sustaining a fractured skull and internal injuries. He was dead when Leroy Redman reached the scene.

Redman and his wife, Anna Mae Redman, resided with his parents, Isaac and Ruth (Peck) Redman, on a farm about two miles south of Moorefield on Route 220. He was born in Hardy county, February 28, 1925.

Surviving, in addition to the parents and wife, are three sisters, Mrs. Walter Patton, Columbus, Ohio, and Miss Genevieve Redman and Betty Mae Redman, both at home, and two brothers, Eugene Redman, Moorefield, and Carlton Redman, Washington.

A funeral service was held Wednesday at Asbury Methodist Church here with the Rev. W. T. Graham, pastor, officiating. Interment was made in the family cemetery.

Lonaconing's Newest Scotch Family

Mr. and Mrs. George Graham and their four children, Anne, a fourth grader, Wilma, an eighth grader, Christine, 18, and Iain, 17, are shown here at their new home on Church Hill, Lonaconing. The family arrived here from Scotland a short time ago and the two younger girls are shown wearing the Crawford kilts, matching Crawford ties and thistle pins.

Scotch Evangelist Settles His Family In Lonaconing

BY MISS MARIE MERRBAUGH
Lonaconing NEWS Correspondent

LONAICONING—Mr. and Mrs. George Graham and their four children, Anne, a fourth grader, Wilma, eighth grader, Christine, 18, and Iain, 17, have arrived from Scotland and established their home on Church Hill.

Mr. Graham, who is evangelist at the Gospel Hall Church, Lonaconing, left Scotland on October 20, 1955 arriving in New York on October 28. He has been in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Washington, D. C., and Detroit, for Gospel evangelist conferences.

The family decided two years ago they would like to come to America where Mr. Graham was interested in being an evangelist. He told of the beautiful Scotland when the heather is in bloom.

They like the hospitality of the little town of Lonaconing, meeting so many friendly people in the community. He has noted that employment for young people seems to be hard to find here, referring to the older members of his family.

Settling the family in this Scotch community, Mr. Graham will continue his evangelist services at Lonaconing. In February he will begin to travel to Detroit and then continue on an evangelist tour in the United States.

On the boat trip to America, it was announced that Mr. Graham was invited to speak a certain evening in the chapel. He was mistaken for Billy Graham and a very large throng turned out for his services.

The chief interest of the entire family is getting the Gospel across to the people.

Christine likes painting pictures and is a high school graduate. Iain plays the organ, piano and mouth organ and is interested in hunting and the area's small game and wild-life.

The children dislike jazz, with sacred music being their favorite. They do not like Elvis Presley. They use the radio only for news broadcasts. Iain is interested in journalism. His name is Gaelic for John.

"My dear, we speak good King's English," Mr. Graham commented, when asked if they have had any confusion with the language since they came to America.

Mrs. Graham belongs to the Crawford clan and the children wear the Crawford plaid.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hunter, who live next door to the Grahams, are Scotch folks also. Ed Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Graham went to school together in Scotland. After 33 years they met again at a Gospel conference.

Mrs. Graham has three nieces, two in Pennsylvania and one in New Jersey. At the close of the interview for this story, they said "Cheerio."

New Ski Slope Is Finished On Marsh Hill

1,000-Foot Tow
Cable Installed

OAKLAND — The construction of the ski slope on Marsh Hill is now complete, and all that is needed for successful operation is a sufficient quantity of snow, it was announced by Helmut Heise, president of the Deep Creek Lake Promotion Council.

The promotion council has made an initial investment of about $4,000 on the project in the hope of expanding the recreational activities of the county to include more than just the summer season.

The warming shed has been completed, the motors are in operation, the tow is completed, and everything in readiness for the season.

The slope is located on property owned by Webster Brennehan, near the site of the Garrett County summer playhouse. The tow is located on the north-east slope of Marsh Hill which has a vertical rise of 400 feet with a total length of about 2,000 feet. The tow, however, is limited to 1,000 feet this year, Heise said, on account of limited funds. The drift width of the slope is some 500 feet which is calculated to give plenty of room for all types of skiers.

A tentative schedule of prices has been fixed at $1.50 per day, 50 cents for children under 12, $10 for a season ticket for one person, or $15 for a family.

Myrtle Temple To Hold Election

MIDLAND — Myrtle Temple No. 2 Pythian Sisters contributed $5 to the Medical Center and $3 to the Midland Fire Company for their annual Christmas treat.

Nomination of officers was held. The December 6 meeting will include election of officers. The group will hold their Christmas party following the December 20 business meeting. Mrs. Rosemary McMillan announced that the party will include an exchange of gifts. Refreshments will be served by members having birthdays in April, May, June.

Undergoes Surgery

MOSCOW — Mrs. John Taylor underwent surgery in Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

Beall Students To Take Homemaker Examination

FROSTBURG — Forty-two Beall High seniors will test their homemaking knowledge when they take the "Homemaker of Tomorrow" examination Tuesday. The test is given by General Mills in a search for the "American Homemaker of Tomorrow."

American Dilemma: Oil For The World

With the Egyptian situation at somewhat of a standstill, attention has been refocused in that country on the Suez Canal, the damage sustained by it, and the probable time required to repair that damage. If the present clearing of sunken ships from the canal is allowed to continue, some estimates are it will take six months to a year to again open it to navigation.

Of primary importance to former users of the canal, principally European nations, is the matter of transporting oil from the Middle East. Some of this oil is presently being shipped around the Cape of Good Hope, but this route is prohibitive in cost to all but the largest merchant fleets. European countries are feeling the pinch desperately and several of them have instituted strict governmental controls over gasoline and oil.

It is natural, therefore, that Europe is turning to the United States for petroleum products to supplement its dwindling supply. Fortunately, the petroleum industry in this country has not been operating near full capacity and will be able to provide at least a major portion of the needed fuel. It cannot, however, hope to replace the entire Middle East output in European markets.

Various U. S. government officials, including Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton, have assured the American people that there will be no need for rationing in this country "under present circumstances." The cautious tone of these pronouncements, coupled with rumblings of price increases of petroleum products in the United States, perhaps should raise the question, why should the United States now or ever forsake its home consumers in favor of nations whose very conduct has caused their predicament, particularly when the U. S. government has officially condemned this conduct?

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Trough

It is, of course, possible to drive a horse to water, but it is not possible to force him to drink the water, if he is minded not to. It is even more so with human beings and their amusements.

The Workers Defense League has issued a call for a Conference on a Code of Ethics for Employment in the Entertainment Industry with the aim, according to the "Daily Worker" of "protecting the rights of employees and the well-being of the industry." What this means is that this Conference is going to do something against what they call blacklisting.

The cash-paying public decides whether it will or will not contribute to the ability of Communists and others to earn a living.

It is a matter of taste. For instance, I am fanatical on the subject of not buying goods from behind the Iron Curtain. There are hundreds of thousands of Americans who refuse to spend their money supporting people whom they regard as enemies of their country and of their civilization. If a soap manufacturer wants to use a Red to advertise his soap, that is his business, but I do not have to buy his soap and I shall not do it even if the Supreme Court were to say that the soap is not to blame. There are other soaps, and taken all-in-all, they are pretty much alike and I can buy a cake of soap that does not pay a wage to a Communist.

That is the essence of what is called blacklisting. Sooner or later, the soap people and the advertising agencies discover that when some folks are connected with a show, too many people stay at home or skip to another television show. So by the laws of economic determinism, which the Communists believe is sound, they decide to employ somebody else. Certain players and directors, producers and writers discovered that this is very bad business but there is little they can do about it, because nobody has to go to a movie show or look at television, and if one does, it is for entertainment and not to get the adrenal glands all worked up over some character's politics.

If, say, a leading Communist were to take Hal March's job on the $64,000 Question program, I would never listen to it or use the products of that company although I listen to it now, to enhance my knowledge as much as to be amused, except when my friend, Vivien Kellems is booby-trapped. Just as these performances are given to win a person's good-will for a product, so they can win his ill-will by doing something offensive. It is a two-way street and whereas those who shriek about the rights of this or that person are probably correct in their attitude as to rights, they must also consider taste and distaste which have as much to do with a judgment as to which toothpaste is preferable or whether one will use one face cleanser or another or just soap and water.

It is for this reason that all efforts to end what is called blacklisting have failed. Whereas it is true that a man has a right to earn a living at the job of his choice, it is also true that another man has a right not to participate in the first man's effort to earn a living. The right to refrain is one that seems to have been forgotten in this era of mass pressure, but there are many who refrain from such enterprises as displease them. For instance, if I refrain from listening to Rock-N-Roll or from watching a gyrating singer who reminds me of a whirling dervish, that is strictly my privilege, but as it could be Elvis Presley's privilege to refrain from listening to Bach on a harpsichord or to the flute music of Frederick the Great. If more of me refrain than more of him, the advertising agencies will save their money by putting on Bach who is in the public domain.

The whole matter is really as simple as this: if the viewers of advertising on television prefer to view another program, the advertiser loses money and drops the program. Theirs not to reason why; theirs only to watch the Trendex and cash in.

There'll Always Be A Santa Claus

Now Is Time For Calm Reflection On Middle East

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — When President Eisenhower left here for a few days of "vacation" in Georgia, officials here described the international situation as "stabilized."

This means merely that the President with lots of telegraph and telephone communications especially set aside for his private use only transports his worries from Washington to Augusta. It means also that the government's effort is to tranquilize matters—to prevent the doing of things here or abroad that could bring on a war. This is an unspectacular job of persuasion by ambassadors or by private phone talks between Augusta and European capitals.

It's a time for calm reflection—to attempt to think through the complex factors that have begun to revive anxieties about a major war. For it is an established fact of history that merely wishing to avoid war and talking about how horrible it is or can be doesn't deter nations from going to war anyhow.

The most dangerous phase of national psychology, for example, develops when a patient people grow impatient—when the average man in any country makes up his mind that the time has come to settle things by force no matter what the consequences. Such a climax occurred in 1917 when American rights on the high seas were persistently violated, and in 1941 when Pearl Harbor was attacked. Situations that do not seem susceptible of bringing on a war sometimes result in a sequence of events which makes war inevitable.

It is precisely because national passions can be aroused to fever heat that measures to calm public opinion become of the utmost importance. What contributes usually to national passion is an injury to pride. Peoples do not like to be "pushed around." The British and French governments may be criticized for not waiting longer for a solution to the Suez controversy before intervening but there is no doubt that many people in both countries were fed up with the Nasser aggression, arrogance and unwillingness to negotiate a reasonable settlement. The Egyptian foreign minister's defiance of the rule of reason in insisting on acceptance of his own point of view without regard to any negotiation with Israel, as revealed Sunday on the "Meet the Press" television program, is calculated to arouse anger rather than to win sympathy for his cause.

The over-all situation for American policy makers is made difficult when there is no recognition in Cairo of the importance of conciliation and adjustment, especially when legal issues such as the violation of the Treaty of 1883 guaranteeing free passage of all ships through the Suez Canal are involved.

It will do no good, for instance, for Britain and France to accede to the U. N. resolution of a fortnight ago demanding that all troops be withdrawn from Egypt if the U. N. provides no machinery for the settlement of the outstanding differences.

The United States is trying to steer a careful course and has by no means sided with Egypt as so many critics seem to think. Nor is the Washington government disposed to raise Nasser's prestige—for this is something nobody can do except Nasser himself, and even only by reversing his course as an aggressor and stooge for Soviet Russia in the Middle East and paying heed to the solemn word of treaties and international agreements which his government has signed.

The first step in the American government's policy looking toward a long-range program in the Middle East is concentrated on the withdrawal of British and French troops from Suez. But the London and Paris governments have every right to announce now that if the U. N. fails to get an agreement, they will feel justified within 90 days in sending their military forces back again. Withdrawal, therefore, need not be interpreted as "surrender" or as a victory for any side—unless it's for the side of negotiation and reason.

President Eisenhower is trying by his own attitude of calmness to turn the public psychology from thoughts of war and military force to an emphasis on moral force and reason. There are lots of problems to be taken up promptly and one of them is clearing the wreckage in the Suez Canal—and how it is all to be paid for—but there is no need for hurry about settling the question of control of the canal. Time always helps to cool passions.

Nasal Polyps Closely Associated With Allergies

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

There is a close association between nasal polyps and allergy. At least half of the individuals with these nasal lesions have co-existing hay fever, allergic rhinitis, or asthma.

Polyps look like miniature punching bags hanging from the roof of the nose. When they become too numerous and large enough to obstruct the flow of air, the growths are removed surgically. But the allergic background must not be overlooked. When this is treated, polyps may disappear spontaneously.

Dr. Robert A. Chait followed more than 400 patients with this condition and noted that some developed the lesions only during the hay fever season. They vanished after frost killed the causative weeds, only to return at the beginning of the next pollinating season. Now and then they appeared concurrently with a cold or other respiratory infection.

Dr. Chait found that ACTH and cortisone worked wonders in a group of patients with polyps and asthma. The hormones not only alleviated wheezing but made the nasal growths regress or disappear. Good results also were obtained when the offending allergen was discovered and eliminated. In the majority, the culprit was a food or an inhalant.

Allergic Rhinitis is another form of nasal allergy. The victim is bothered off and on with sneezing, nasal obstruction, a watery discharge, and itching of the nose and eyes. The condition is indistinguishable from hay fever except that it is likely to be a year around rather than a seasonal affair. Many of these sufferers also have polyps, which add to their misery.

Allergy, rather than a cold, is responsible. Symptoms are likely to be more pronounced during the morning and toward evening. The list of offending agents includes many foods, medications, cosmetics, textiles, insecticides, and inhalants. Dust from mattresses, draperies, and upholstered furniture is one of the worst offenders; grain dust is bothersome, too.

The allergen may be obvious but as a rule it must be tracked down in true allergists' style. This means skin testing, elimination diets, and trial and error methods.

When possible, the substances to which the individual is sensitive should be eliminated or

Liberal Democratic Leaders Hand Lyndon Johnson A Big Setback

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — After the Democratic decision to press for a liberal legislative program, party Chairman Paul Butler telephoned Senate leader Lyndon Johnson with the news.

It was a polite way of telling Johnson that he wasn't running the Democratic Party. Butler reported that the Executive Committee had voted unanimously to seek speedy action on a "liberal and enlightened" program. This was exactly opposite to the don't-rock-the-boat policy Johnson himself had announced.

"You are splitting the Democratic Party to pieces!" Johnson exploded over the phone. It was a mistake, he warned angrily, to come out with a Democratic program ahead of President Eisenhower's legislative recommendations. The tall Texan also wanted to know who was responsible for challenging his leadership.

"Who introduced the resolution?" he demanded.

"Paul Ziffren," replied Butler, referring to California's National Committeeman. Johnson mulled something about reading Ziffren's views in the paper.

After Johnson cooled down, Butler calmly invited him to join the 17-member committee that will "coordinate and advance" the liberal program. Johnson grudgingly replied it was all right with him, but he would have to talk to House Speaker Sam Rayburn first.

The Executive Committee's action represents a triumph for the northern liberals over the southern conservatives. Both wings have been battling backstage to determine which should flap the Democratic Party.

Harmonious Lyndon

As the southerners' fair-haired boy, Johnson is striving to upset no apple carts. In the name of Democratic unity, he had persuaded northern Democrats not to agitate for civil rights and other liberal legislation. For four years he had argued this would antagonize the south. He had also been the chief architect of a don't criticize-the-President policy, on the theory Ike was too popular to tangle with.

Johnson's policies, however, didn't win any votes in the south. In fact, he lost his own state of Texas to Eisenhower. As a result, liberal Senators felt they had been led down the garden path by the soft-soaping Texan.

They have now come out for a militant, 16-point program in outright defiance of Johnson's leadership. The Executive Committee clearly sided with the liberals against Johnson.

The Committee's action ran up against only token opposition during the closed-door sessions this week. The resolution, calling for speedy program, was introduced by action on a liberal Ziffren and backed by two big-city leaders—Mayor Dave Lawrence of Pittsburgh and Col. Jake Avery of Chicago.

Louisiana national committeeman Camille Gravel, Jr., speaking for the south, protested that Ziffren's resolution would do what the Democratic Convention had refused to do. He referred to the fact that the Convention had turned down a minority proposal, calling for "implementation" of the Democratic platform civil rights pledges.

Gravel acknowledged, however, that Ziffren's resolution was both "legal and logical." In the end, he voted reluctantly for it.

The Executive Committee also decided to meet with the 17-member Advisory Committee January 4 to lay down a legislative program. This means the Democrats will come out with their program before Ike's State of the Union recommendations—another slap at Johnson's wait-for-the-President policy.

In short, the Executive Committee took every possible step to head off Johnson from taking over leadership of the Democratic Party.

Democratic-Go-Round

BACKSTAGE WITH THE DEMOCRATS: Two backstage moves to oust Democratic Chairman Paul Butler didn't even get inside the door at the Executive Committee meeting. . . . Pittsburgh's Mayor Dave Lawrence wanted to replace Butler with Adlai Stevenson's campaign manager, Jim Finnegan. This was spiked by Finnegan himself, who refused to run for the job. . . . Senate leader Lyndon Johnson was supporting two candidates—Kentucky's defeated Sen. Earle Clements or ex-FDR aide Jim R. Johnson. Johnson sounded out Democratic bigwigs about both men. . . . But the Executive Committee unanimously endorsed Butler.

The Democrats will appeal to the "little people" for contributions to pay their campaign debts. Adlai Stevenson will send letters to a list of 125,000 small contributors, asking for help in making up the campaign deficit. . . . It cost the Democratic National Committee $50,000 to draw up the list during the campaign. The first appeal for funds, however, brought in $200,000. . . . The Executive Committee also decided to hold an annual "Dollars for Democrats" day. . . . Mayor Lawrence suggested setting up a separate corporation to publish the Democratic Party's monthly magazine, The Democratic Digest. His suggestion was turned down, however, on the grounds that the party might lose control over the magazine.

Seeming And Being

By Brother Barnabas

"You know what I mean" is a bit of jargon often heard in a conversation when the speaker runs out of wind and wants time to decide what to say next to pique the interest of the listener that seems to be lagging.

It's a verbal vacuum that sustains about the same relation to the subject under discussion as the "rest" in a bar of music.

If the speaker in the case happens to be a lawyer in court he is apt to say: "Your Honor, and Gentlemen of the Jury, what I am trying to say, and I say it again at the risk of redundancy, and without fear of successful contradiction, and as hereinbefore stated, namely, to-wit, that black is not white, never was, and never will be; so be it, and ipse dixit."

Pure bombast, "if you know what I mean."

He might have been more modest if he had added, "At least it seems so to me." For things do not always seem alike to all people, or even to oneself at all times and under different circumstances.

If beauty is skin-deep, a white soul may dwell in a black-skinned body, and a black sheep may masquerade in a white sheet. "The good is always beautiful, the beautiful is good."

A Hottentot says it's impossible for one to walk on water; but bring him north and he will see people skating on it.

Colors are confusing. What seems brilliant to one is drab to another. Who can carry color in the eye? Try matching shades of blue without a sample. Which is Peacock, sapphire, ultramarine, French, Jouvence — all blue?

Turning now from generalities to particulars in the realm of seeming and being, we enter the department of psychoanalysis, and here we find a broad field for exploring ourselves, others, and the world of phantasy in which we live.

Who am I, and who are you? Neither knows either. We are like ships passing in the night. We salute but do not show our manifests.

"You're looking fine since you left the hospital. If you had an operation you've got to show me."

Two psychiatrists met. "You are all right, how am I?" One may have been a psycho-ceramic—otherwise, a crackpot.

A man with "wheels" is not to be trusted. The comfort in riding depends more on the character of the chauffeur than the make of the car.

I wouldn't trust a "Rock 'n' Roller" with a Rolls-Royce car. Frau Einstein professed she didn't know anything about Relativity but she knew Einstein.

It's hard to get next to some people. They don't wear their heart on their sleeve. One may be as cold as a clam and have as warm a heart as ever beat "twixt here and the judgment seat."

A wife knows her husband by his pants. If he's a Methodist they are worn out at the knees by praying, and at the seat by backsliding.

A husband knows his wife by the way she balances her modest derriere on her heels, the while she wiles him into the beauty-shop where she regales herself with Edwardian gowns and "Matchibellan" perfumes so they can have a happy Christmas together.

"So you met your wife at a dance, wasn't that romantic?" "No, it was embarrassing. I thought she was at home caring for the kids."

Fathers don't know their sons. A man came home from the golf links. His wife greeted him, and remarked that their young son had come home a few minutes before. "He says he has been caddyfing for you all day."

"Is that so? I thought that boy seemed mighty familiar."

Self-satisfied people don't go out of their way to broaden their circle of friends. Charles Lamb said he didn't want to know that man for if he did he would love him, and he didn't like him.

The man who boasts that his life is an open book isn't likely to make the Literary Guild. It will be a pocket edition, have few readers and be summarized by the epilogue on his tombstone:

BEEN HERE
HAD A GOOD TIME

"If you know what I mean," I'm trying to say that man is inexcusable. He partly is, and wholly hopes to be. He is too deep to be plumbed. Nobody knows him; he doesn't know himself. There is One who "knew what is in man."

He is Adelaide A. Procter's "The Lost Chord." It came from the soul of the organ and sounded like a grand Amen.

He may be as a sea duck cuddling in the swells. He can rest while the Atlantic heaves. He is part of it.

He doesn't know how big the Atlantic is, neither do you or I. But he realizes it, and is not afraid. He sits down in it. He reposes in the immediate, as if it were Infinity, which it is.

That's religion, and the duck has it. Were we but as wise as the duck! O Boy!

Patterson Knocks Out Moore, Wins Heavy Title

21-Year-Old Brooklynite Wins In 5th

Becomes Youngest Heavyweight Champ In Ring History

By JACK HAND
CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Floyd Patterson became the youngest heavyweight champion in history tonight when the 21-year-old Brooklyn boy knocked out Archie Moore in 2:27 of the fifth round before a roaring near-capacity crowd at the Chicago Stadium.

Dazzling the 39-year-old light heavyweight king with his blazing speed of hand, Patterson climaxed his amazing rise from Olympic champion to king of the world's heavies in only four years.

Patterson was piling up a lead on the official cards against his wildly missing opponent when he crashed home a terrific left hook to the jaw.

Archie Falls On Face
The hook to the jaw had a delayed action effect on old Archie who hoped to become the oldest man ever to crash to the heavyweight title on a second try. For a split second, Moore started to come on, then he spun and fell on his face. Dazed and befuddled by this scowling young tiger, Moore barely beat the count of Referee Frank Sikora, rising at the count of nine.

As Moore wobbled, unsteady on his aging pins, Patterson finished him off with another powerful left, sinking Moore to his haunches. Archie began to get up slowly, pulling himself up inch by inch in painful fashion. Just as he was getting up, at the count of ten, Referee Sikora signalled the end.

Patterson Was Ahead
Judge Jim McManus had given the first four rounds of this nationally televised fight to Patterson by a 20 to 16 lead in the "five must" point system used by National Boxing Association states. Judge John Bray had it even in rounds two and even in points 18-18, while Referee Sikora scored it 20 to 17 for Patterson with three rounds for Patterson and one, the fourth even.

Patterson, who gave weight to his opponent, 182 1/2 to 187 1/2, simply packed too much speed. Floyd shook off some of Archie's punches, blocked a good share of them and made him miss with his crouch, bob and weave. When Moore, trying to upset his man would bend low, Patterson went right down with him.

Patterson was criticized on many sides as an untested heavyweight who hardly deserved to step into the shoes vacated by Rocky Marciano when he retired April 27. There will be no more criticism of his inexperience after the way he took care of Moore.

Archie Too Old
All along it figured to be a question of age. Was Patterson too young? Was Moore too old? Fifteen minutes after the action started it was all too apparent Archie was too old.

Moore was slashed near the left eye on the bridge of the nose in the third round. At the end of the same round, Patterson had a slight cut along his left eyebrow. When the blood started to flow, it was obvious that Moore had to shoot the works in one last desperate try. He never was able to get it off.

Hooks Shake Moore
Patterson continued to apply pressure. Just before the bell ended the third, Moore was wobbled by three successive hooks to the jaw. Old Archie returned slowly to his corner at the bell.

Young Floyd never let up. At the beginning of the fifth he drove home a beautiful series of punches to Moore's head and body—two lefts to the body, followed by a right to the chops.

In Patterson's anxiety he slipped to the floor as he missed with a wild swing. Moore drove a hook to the body, but ran flush into a left hook that practically lifted him off his feet.

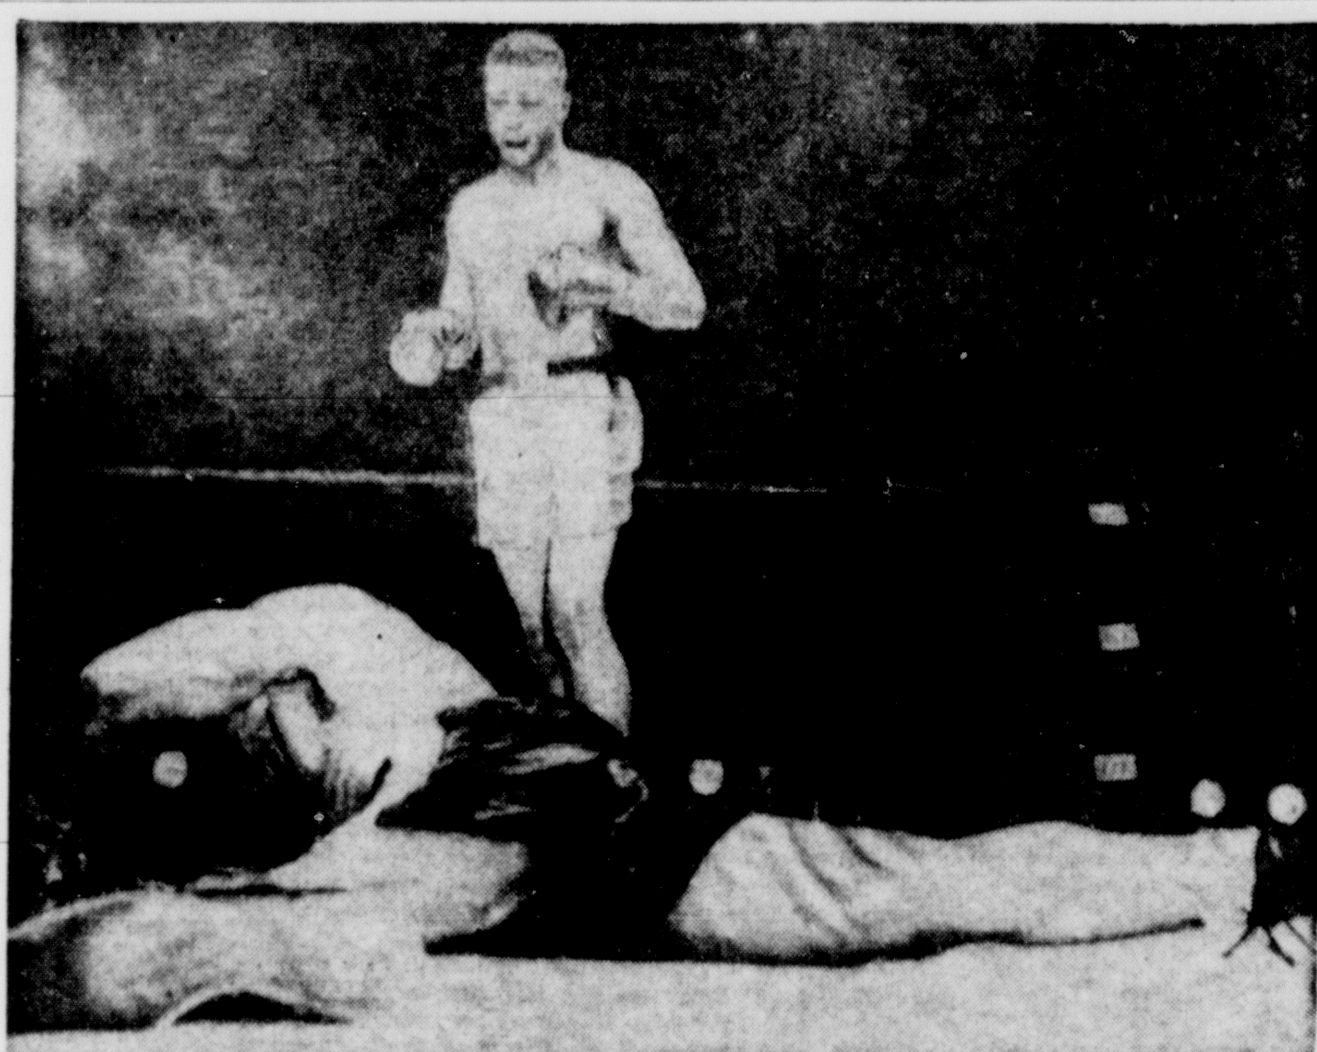

Although he did manage to get up, the end was in sight. There was no fight left in Moore and Patterson was surging in with more power in each punch.

The only thing left to Archie, who now calls San Diego his home, is his light heavy title. After his knockouts by Marciano in 1935 and by Patterson tonight, he no longer figures among the top heavyweights contenders.

Wins 18th In Row
It was Patterson's 18th straight victory and his 31st in a 32-fight career since his return from the 1932 Olympics. His only defeat was at the hands of Joey Maxim, the former light heavy king, on a disputed decision in an eight rounder in 1934.

Hornets Capture Opener, 58 To 34

HYNDMAN, Pa., Dec. 1.—Hyndman High School made its 1936-37 basketball debut under new coach Harry McKinley a winning one by trimming the Alumni to night by the score of 58-34.

The Hornets jumped off to a 19-3 lead in the opening quarter and never were headed. The score was 34-10 at halftime and 44-22 at the close of the third period.

Allen Ringler sparked the winners with five field goals and 16 points. Charles Twigg dumped in 11 tallies and Don Shaffer and Bill Bruck collected eight points each. Terry Rizer was high scorer for the Alumni with 11 points to his credit. Lineups:

Paw Paw, Berkeley Added; Five Schools Have New Coaches

The Potomac Valley Conference will open its twentieth basketball season next week with three games on Tuesday and a like number on Friday.

Nine of the 17 teams in the approaching race are slated to see action opening weeks, as follows:
Tuesday — Piedmont at Elk Garden, Fort Ashby at Paw Paw, and Ridgeley at West Virginia School for the Deaf, Friday — Ridgeley at Romney, Elk Garden at Piedmont and Mathias at Moorefield.

The league schools are Berkeley Springs, Capon Bridge, Circleville, Elk Garden, Franklin, Fort Ashby, Keyser, Mathias, Moorefield, Paw Paw, Petersburg, Piedmont, Ridgeley, Romney, Southern, Wardensville and West Virginia School for the Deaf.

Two Schools Added
There were 15 schools enrolled last year and additions for the 1936-37 race are Paw Paw and Berkeley Springs. The latter school made its bow in the spring and participated in track and baseball, also in the football circuit.

Like last season, Southern will not be eligible for the championship because it has only two games with a league opponent—Elk Garden. Both of these contests, however, are counted in the Elks' league record.

Five New Coaches
Five of the quints that were in the loop last season have new coaches. They are Arno Hott, Capon Bridge; Curtis "Gus" Smith, Franklin; Loring Vance, Mathias; William Crites, Petersburg; and Thomas O'Connor, Ridgeley. Coaches of the new entries are Sid Roach, Paw Paw; and Gerard Calhoun, Berkeley Springs.

Piedmont High School's Lions, coached by William "Huck" Miers, are the defending champions, having won the 1935-36 title with a 12-2 record. In fact, Piedmont has finished on top three times in the past four years.

Keyser has won five titles since the league started in 1938. Ridgeley has won four and shared another with Davis, Parsons and Piedmont each have won three. Moorefield, twice, and Romney, once.

Individual Records
Here are the league player records:
Most points in single season—441 in 19 games by Pat Kern, Moorefield, 1933.
Most field goals scored in one game—29 in 1951 by Carl Hartman, Ridgeley.
Most points scored in one game—62 in 1951 by Carl Hartman.
Highest scoring average for one season—29.0 points by Carl Hartman in 1951 (348 points in 12 games).

West Va. Deaf Floormen Play Alumni Tonight

West Virginia School for the Deaf launches its 1936-37 basketball campaign tonight by playing host to the Alumni at Romney.

This will be the first of 18 regular season games for Coach Malcolm Norwood's cagers, who captured 13 and lost eight last year.

Ten of the Lions' games are with Potomac Valley Conference opponents, namely, Ridgeley, Romney, Capon Bridge, Wardensville at Fort Ashby.

Four of the members of the present squad were outstanding last season. They are Charles Buemi, who racked up 536 points for a 26.8 average in 20 games, Johnny Popovich, Gene Smith and Billy Bob McCoy.

Norwood is starting his fourth season at the Romney school. His three teams have won 25 and lost 38.

Frank Leahy And Brennan Are Feuding

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—A Notre Dame family feud erupted today between football coach Terry Brennan and former coach Frank Leahy—on the eve of the last game of the disastrous Notre Dame season.

Brennan said he would have something to say about his personal differences with Leahy, but not until after tomorrow's game against Southern California. Notre Dame has had two wins, seven defeats this year.

Neutral observers wondered if the flying charges and counter-charges would serve as a needle to spur the Notre Dame team to make mincemeat of the Trojans tomorrow, thus salvaging some Fighting Irish pride. Southern California is a 14-point favorite.

Leahy started the row when, in an interview yesterday, he said the Fighting Irish had lost their fight and will to win.

"It's not the losses that upset me," he said. "It's that attitude. What has happened to the old Notre Dame spirit? Those great forty quarter finishes? That old try right down to the final whistle, even if there were no chance of winning?"

Brennan replied today: "This is a personal thing. Something came up between Leahy and me a couple of days ago. I won't talk about it now—I don't want to alarm the squad more than necessary. I'll have something to say after the game."

"I think if Leahy's interest in Notre Dame was sincere he wouldn't have said such things," Leahy said today. "If any Notre Dame man is critical of what I have said, I can only reply: 'Isn't it true?' Teams like Notre Dame can lose games, but in the past they have always gone down swinging."

Reports have been published that Brennan might resign Dec. 6, the day of the annual Notre Dame football banquet in South Bend.

"Nothing to it," Brennan said today. A Notre Dame source said Leahy is willing to return to the campus in a supervisory or consultant capacity, possibly to direct spring practice.

"Not as long as I'm coach," Brennan retorted. "There has been no talk of having Leahy around."

Bobcats Lose Opening Cage Battle, 74-66

Westinghouse Five Wins; "Buck" Smith Hoops 12-12 Fouls

FROSTBURG, Nov. 30.—Westinghouse Apprentice School of Pittsburgh opened a two-day invasion of the tri-state area by defeating Frostburg State Teachers College in the latter's opening game of the season here tonight by the score of 74-66.

The Bobcats held a two-point advantage at the halfway mark, 46-44, but the Steel City quint forged to the front early in the second 20-minute period and stayed there until the final whistle.

Frostburg lost Dave Marple on personal fouls in the second half. Attenberg, center, headed the Westinghouse attack, with 27 points on seven fielders and 13-15 fouls. Trombala and Noble aided the winning cause with 19 and 18 tallies.

Frostburg's play was highlighted by the free shooting of Evers "Buck" Smith who meshed 12 consecutive throws at the free throw line. Smith's three field goals enabled him to share scoring honors with Marple, each player garnering 18 points. Jim Cave chalked up 14 markers.

Westinghouse held a 25-20 edge in field goals and outscored the Bobcats 24 to 23 at the charity stripe. The lineups:

Buck Bagging Week Favor Sept. Dates
"Hunter's Choice" Memories Of 1919

By C. V. BURNS

NEXT WEEK is the big week for nimrods in Maryland. The buck deer season comes in Monday and continues through Saturday.

Hunters may use firearms and bow and arrow and only male deer with two or more points to the antler and spike bucks with 3-inch antlers may be killed. The daily bag and season limit is one.

If you make a kill, take the animal to the checking station before you remove the head, hide or any part from the deer or cut the meat into parts. If any person has a deer, or parts, thereof, the sex of which cannot be definitely determined, it shall be considered prima facie evidence that said deer is an illegal deer and whoever possesses it will be subject to penalties.

Those using firearms can fire only one shot at a time (no machine guns, please). The shot can be all lead or lead alloy or soft nose expanding bullet or ball with a muzzle energy of not less than 1,200 foot pounds.

Archers must use a long bow with at least 30 pounds pull; they cannot use a crossbow. It is unlawful to hunt deer with dogs in Maryland.

You can hunt in lawful counties even if snow is on the ground. Any questions?

WEST VIRGINIA'S six-day deer season also gets under way Monday.

In 23 of the counties hunters are allowed to shoot buck, doe or fawn. Only 10 counties are closed to all deer hunting and the remaining 22 will feature bucks only.

The "hunter's choice" counties include Mineral, Hampshire, Hardy, Pendleton, Preston, Berkeley, Morgan and Randolph. Grant, Tucker and Taylor are the counties or parts thereof that are open to bucks only with one or both antlers three or more inches in length above the hairline.

Counties closed to deer hunting are open to small game hunting next week. The small game season is suspended in the counties where deer hunting is legal.

HARRY J. BARTON, general manager of the Cumberland Fair Association, will mark his 58th birthday on Thursday, December 13 by attending a meeting of the Maryland Half Mile Tracks Association at the Pimlico track club house.

Representatives of the half milers will meet to discuss dates for their 12-day meets in 1937. These dates will be submitted to the Maryland Racing Commission at Baltimore on December 17.

Cumberland was satisfied with September dates this year and hopes to run in the same month in 1937. General Manager Barton says.

"HOW MANY city football championships has Fort Hill High School won?" a fan asked the other day.

Since Fort Hill entered the picture in 1936, it has won ten championships outright and shared two with Allegany. Since 1928 Allegany has captured 11 championships and shared two each with LaSalle and Fort Hill. LaSalle has bagged three and tied Allegany twice. Penn Avenue High, which got into the act from 1932 to 1935, won one championship.

This covers 29 years since LaSalle and Allegany played their first game in 1928.

BATON TWIRLING, a new sport is growing in Cumberland. In fact, it's sweeping the country.

The president of a music instrument company at Elkhardt, Indiana, the musical city, says approximately five million batons of all types are now in use in the United States, with more than a million sold last year.

The A. A. U. recognized twirling as a competitive sport two years ago and sponsors twirling programs with one baton two batons, contests in "free twirling" and majoretting—twirling with a band.

If you are walking down the street and get socked on the kisser by a stray baton don't get peeved. It's a sport now and is about the same as being kicked on the noggin with a foul ball.

IT was just seven years ago this week that John W. Snyder, 72, one of Cumberland's most colorful sportsmen, passed on.

Last night's heavyweight championship fight brought back memories of Snyder, who almost had the Jack Dempsey-Jess Willard bout sewed up for Cumberland in 1919 until the governor vetoed the plan.

George "Tex" Rickard, the famed promoter, was here and had OK'd Cumberland as the site for the match. Snyder had planned to build a bowl near the Six Mile House for the championship affair.

Russia Gains On Americans In Australia

U.S. Hopes To Win 15 Gold Medals To Retain Point Lead

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MELBOURNE, (Saturday) Dec. 1.—Two track events—the 400 and 1,600-meter relays—and basketball, three gold medals which have been looked upon as sure bets for Yank athletes, today became "musts" if U. S. Olympians are to outlast Russia for the unofficial team point title.

There wasn't much doubt that all three were in the bag for the U. S. But there remained the chance of an upset—a fumbled baton pass in the relays, or a cold night on the basketball court—and there was no guarantee that even all three events, a total of 30 points, will be enough to withstand the Russians through the final week of the 1936 games.

The featured track and field phase of the games ends at the Melbourne cricket ground today and the mammoth international sports competition moves into the fringe events for another week ending next Saturday.

Going into the final week the Americans have 20 championship gold medals, 15 silver and seven bronze compared with 12 gold medals, 11 silver, and 12 bronze for Russia.

Despite a brilliant one-two finish by record breaker Milt Campbell and Rafer Johnson in the demanding decathlon, the U. S. was outscored by the Soviets 50-29 yesterday. That left the Yanks with a 347 to 269 1/2 unofficial point edge going into today's competition.

But Uncle Sam is unable to feel fully comfortable because his biggest harvest is over and the games now enter into competitions in which the Russians, as a rule, have greater success. This is particularly true in gymnastics, a department in which the Russians shone at Helsinki four years ago.

WOW Win By Forfeit

The Woodmen of the World won three games via the forfeit route when the Frostburg K. of C. failed to appear for their Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League match here last night.

102,000 Sellout Crowd To Attend Army, Navy Game

Middies Are Rated Three Point Choice

Cotton Bowl Berth Awaits Midshipmen If They Top Cadets

By BOB HOORING

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 30 (AP)—Navy, favored by the margin of a grudging defense and versatile attack, and hard-running Army flexed their muscles today prior to tomorrow's climactic football meeting with a Middies' Cotton Bowl bid riding on the outcome.

While the two service schools ran through light workouts at Municipal Stadium on the chill flats of South Philadelphia, unofficial word was that once-beaten Navy is No. 1 choice for a Dallas appearance against Texas Christian if it gets by the Cadets.

Navy Is Favorite

The Midshipmen ruled a three point favorite as the city began filling with visitors who will form part of tomorrow's 102,000 sellout crowd.

A mild, sunny day with temperatures in the mid-forties was the weatherman's pleasant prediction.

"The guns are set," was the terse comment of Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz who appeared calm and in good humor as the Middies shouted through a signal drill in sweat suits.

"There's not much that can be said or any changes to be made now," Erdelatz added.

Army followed Navy, which was early for its 1:30 p.m. workout, but the Cadets merely walked around the field in military dress. The gray-clad West Pointers appeared silent, almost grim.

"I look for a very close and difficult game," Army Coach Earl (Red) Blaik replied when asked if he had a pre-battle statement.

"Difficult for which side, Colonel?" he was asked.

"For both sides," Blaik said.

Both teams appeared in top physical shape except for one half-back each.

Gober May Appear

Erdelatz said that injured Paul Gober might make a token appearance for the honor in the game but would not be used as a surprise weapon. Cadet sophomore Gene Mikolinos, injured in Army's opener, was definitely out.

Navy (6-1) figured the winner over Army (5-3) not only on one of the best defensive records in the nation and its well-balanced passing-running game but on its superior depth.

Erdelatz planned to alternate its first and second teams—and, if possible, throw in a complete third unit. Blaik said he would substitute by groups of four, five or six but did not believe his manpower sufficient to replace a full eleven men.

Cards, Chisox Get Hall Of Fame Game

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 30.—(INS)—The St. Louis Cardinals will play the Chicago White Sox in the major league baseball Hall of Fame game at Cooperstown next July 22.

Paul S. Kerr, vice-president of the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum, said the game will follow dedication ceremonies in which plaques commemorating the election of Joe Cronin and Hank Greenberg will be installed in the museum.

Clever Barbizon

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Calumet Farm's Barbizon, winner of the state's richest race at Garden State Park, puts his tongue out about three or four inches. When he does that it means he wants some sugar, says stable foreman Al Filocomo. Barbizon is here awaiting the $100,000 Flamingo next March.

The tapir of the tropical countries is closely allied to the horse and rhinoceros.

Pesky Is Named Birmingham Pilot

DETROIT, Nov. 30 (AP)—Johnny Pesky, former Detroit Tiger infielder, has been named manager of the club's Birmingham affiliate in the Southern Assn.

Pesky, 39, last season guided the Tigers' Durham club to second place in the Carolina League. It was his first year as a manager.

Pesky played in the American League 10 seasons, three of them with the Tigers.

Charles Town Racing Meet Is Scratched

LePore, Ambrose In Disagreement

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 30 (AP)—The Charles Town Race was definitely "scratched" today from any December racing.

The West Virginia Racing Commission took up the question at a meeting here, but a move to grant the dates got nowhere.

Commissioner Ralph LePore of Wheeling moved that the Charles Town Turf Club be granted Dec. 8-22 dates, provided that it complied with the commission's rule on minimum purses.

Ambrose Votes No
Commission Chairman John Ambrose of Charles Town refused to second the motion, and it died. The other commissioner, Roy Graham of Huntington, was ill and did not attend.

Ambrose commented that the Turf Club would not comply with the minimum purse rule. It requires that purses amount to at least 4 per cent of a track's daily parimutuel handle.

An official of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Assn., which has asked Gov. Marland to remove Ambrose from the commission, said after today's closed meeting that Ambrose did not act as an impartial chairman.

Club Not Represented

John Manfuso, chairman of the HBPA's national purse committee, told Ambrose that no one was present to say that the Turf Club would not comply with the 4 per cent rule.

Actually there was no formal application from the Turf Club for the December racing dates. A track spokesman said earlier the Turf Club had given up hope of a December meeting, but would ask dates later for next February.

Manfuso, referring to Ambrose's comment that the track would not go along with the rule, claimed that Ambrose in effect was no longer speaking as the commission chairman but as a representative of the Charles Town interests.

On two previous occasions Ambrose has voted against enforcing the 4 per cent rule at the Charles Town track.

Ambrose quoted Gov. Marland at a meeting earlier this month that Marland wanted both rules suspended until the 1957 Legislature convened.

Will Not Resign

In Huntington, Commissioner Graham said he has no intention of resigning from the commission. Graham, a Republican, referred to a letter from Senate President Ralph Bean (D-Hardy) which accused him of "petty politics" for walking out of a commission meeting last Monday. Bean is a Democrat.

Bids To Bowl Contests Ride On Results Today

Five Spots Unfilled In Five Major Bowls

By ORLO ROBERTSON

College football winds up its 1956 business today with bowls bids and prestige riding on the outcome of most of the games.

Five spots remain to be filled in the five major bowls which will be played Dec. 29 and New Year's day. Only Oregon State vs Iowa in the Rose Bowl definitely is set.

The Cotton Bowl needs an opponent for Texas Christian. The Sugar Bowl is looking for two occupants. The Orange Bowl needs a team to meet Colorado, the Big Seven representative. And the Gator Bowl has one spot open following Pittsburgh's acceptance Friday.

The Bowl Picture

Rose—Iowa vs Oregon State.
Cotton—Texas Christian vs Navy, Syracuse, Georgia Tech or possibly Tennessee.

Sugar—Probably Tennessee vs Baylor with Georgia Tech and Houston also under consideration.

Orange—Colorado vs Clemson, Duke or South Carolina. Clemson is the Atlantic Coast Conference champion but the conference doesn't necessarily have to pick its title winner.

Panthers Accept

Gator—Pittsburgh vs either

Bears Face Detroit In Big Battle

Giants, Redskins Play In New York

By BEN OLAN

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Bears meet the Detroit Lions in the Motor City tomorrow in the big game on the National Football League's menu as the season hits the 10-week mark with the outcome of both conferences still very much in doubt.

The Lions seek to regain first place in the Western Conference. They gave up a share of the lead when they lost to Green Bay Thanksgiving Day and the Bears tied the New York Giants 7-17 last Sunday. Detroit has a 7-2 mark while Chicago is 7-1-1.

Cards Face Packers

In the Eastern Conference, only one game separates the pacesetters Giants and the third-place Washington Redskins. Since these teams will be playing each other in Yankee Stadium, the runnerup Chicago Cardinals will have a golden opportunity to gain ground.

The Cards, who trail New York by a half game, will go against the Packers in Chicago.

In other games, Los Angeles will be at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia at Cleveland and San Francisco at Baltimore.

The Lions will have to improve their pass defense if they expect to get by the Bears. Harlon Hill, Chicago's end, presents a problem. He grabbed two touchdown passes against New York last Sunday to earn a deadlock for his team.

Detroit's aerial defense was weak in the Thanksgiving Day defeat to the Packers, who rallied behind Tobin Rote's fine pitching, to score 21 points in the final quarter.

The teams are scheduled to meet again on the final day of the regular season, Dec. 16. The Bears are down to take on the Cards on the next-to-last weekend Dec. 9 while Pittsburgh will furnish Detroit's opposition.

Giants Seek Revenge

The Giants will be seeking revenge against Washington, which trounced them 33-7 two weeks ago. The Redskins have won five in a row since dropping their first three games. New York has been installed a seven-point favorite.

The Cards, 38-27 victors over Pittsburgh last Sunday, will be meeting Green Bay for the first time this year. A victory coupled with a Giant setback would lift the Cardinals into first place. Chicago has won six games while losing three and the Giants' record is 6-2-1.

Charles Town Loss To State $300,000

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 30 (AP)—A West Virginia legislator said today he will seek abolition of the State Racing Commission at the next Legislature.

State Sen. Clarence Martin Jr. (D-Berkeley) said he will introduce legislation to abolish the commission and reconstitute it "to get rid of all the restrictive rules they have set up."

Martin was

Priest Named Assistant At St. Mary's

Rev. Walter Janocka has been appointed second assistant to Rev. Lawrence P. Landrigan, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, by Most Rev. Francis P. Keough, archbishop of the Baltimore archdiocese.

Father Janocka, a native of Baltimore, received his new appointment last Saturday and comes here from St. Athanasius Church, in the Curtis Bay section of Baltimore, where he had been stationed about a year and a half.

A son of Mrs. Alexandra Janocka, Baltimore, and the late Peter Janocka, Father Janocka was educated in Baltimore schools prior to studying for the priesthood at St. Charles College, Catonsville. He completed his priestly studies at St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore.

Following his ordination, Father Janocka was appointed assistant at Sacred Heart of Mary Church in the Graceland Park section of his native town. He served there four years before being appointed to St. Athanasius Church.

Father Janocka joins Rev. Robert Hopkins, a native Cumberlander, as assistant to Father Landrigan.

County Group Will Attend State Meeting

A delegation from Allegany County will attend the annual meeting of the State Association of County Commissioners next week in Annapolis.

Planning to make the trip are William H. Lemmert, president of Commissioners; James Orr, county commissioner; J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor; Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board of commissioners, and Somerville Nicholson, county supervisor of assessments.

Mr. Lemmert, who is a member of the state's association's legislative committee, will attend that group's session on Tuesday evening.

The association meeting will be held the following day and the resolution passed by the Allegany County Commissioners regarding an increase in state welfare case scales will be presented.

Mr. Lemmert said the county board's resolution has been distributed to all county boards and a number of replies have been received giving support to the move.

Lemmert is also a member of a special committee that will meet with Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, state superintendent of schools, for a discussion of the new state wage scale for teachers.

Two other important topics will be county roads systems and property assessments.

County Issues Pole Permit

Permission to erect five utility poles along a county road in the Beechwood section of Lonaconing, was granted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners to the Jackson Television Company of Lonaconing.

James G. McElvie and Thomas M. Connor, trading as the television company, wanted to erect the poles to extend their cable into that section of town.

The commissioners stipulated that the poles be erected in compliance with the regulations and requirements of the public utility companies.

In other business, the commissioners discussed, but took no action, on the communication received from the Allegany County Chapter of the American Chemical Society urging the construction of a four-year college in Western Maryland.

Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson was absent yesterday due to illness in his family.

Arizona has twice as many national monuments and more land in Indian reservations than any other state in the Union.

Local Church Acts To Call Pastor

The vestry of St. Paul's Lutheran Church met Thursday at the church to take formal action on calling Rev. John Sammel of Shippensburg, Pa., to the pastorate of the church, according to Dr. Charles L. Kopp, president of the vestry.

St. Paul's has been without a full-time pastor since the retirement of Rev. Dr. Hixon T. Bowers several months ago.

LaVale Audit Report Shows Net Surplus

The audit of the funds of the LaVale Sanitary Commission for the fiscal year ending June 30, was submitted yesterday to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners by James P. Rogers, Rockville, certified public accountant employed to make the check.

A satisfactory report was given by Rogers on the handling of the account and the bookkeeping.

The audit shows the commission had at the end of the year a net surplus of $29,329.

The surplus was increased from the balance on hand on June 30, 1955, of $21,194. It was increased by the past year's net surplus of $8,135.

The audit shows the commission has fixed assets of $435,270 plus a current and accrued assets of $37,837, for total assets of $473,107.

Liabilities include $390,000 in bonds payable, and $46,463 in notes payable for a total liability of $436,463.

This leaves the operating surplus of $29,329.

Revenues amounted to $59,701, the major part of which included $25,599 in water service charges; $33,653 in special assessments; $7,541 from tax sources on real and personal property; $2,125 in tapage fees, and $1,654 in miscellaneous fees.

Expenses total $30,530. Major items in outgoing money were $8,522 to the City of Cumberland for water purchased; $4,875 for materials, and $10,042 for salaries.

Deductions from the income included $12,987 for interest on funded debt, and $7,775 for depreciation of the system.

Damage Case Settled Here

A $25,000 damage case removed to Allegany County Circuit Court from Garrett County was settled out of court Thursday, just ten hours before it was to go to trial.

The amount of the settlement was not learned.

Harry E. Ark, a pedestrian had sued Richard Whittaker, a motorist, as a result of injuries received when the plaintiff was hit by the defendant's car.

The mishap occurred on the night of January 21, 1955, on Route 39 one mile west of Crellin. The papers filed in the case stated that Ark was standing on the side of the road when hit by Whittaker's car, which the plaintiff said was being operated at an excessive speed and on the wrong side of the highway.

The plaintiff declared he suffered a fractured skull and nose, compound fracture of the right leg, chest injuries and numerous cuts and bruises.

The Oakland law firm of Jones and Jones, together with W. Earle Cobey, of this city represented Ark while Stephen R. Pagenhardt of Oakland and Earl E. Manges, this city, were counsel for Whittaker.

Study carefully what foundation garments bring the most flattery to your individual type of figure.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Watch That Line

A woman should not depend on her dress fitter alone if she wants to look her best in a slender sheath which reveals every line of her figure. For the success of the dress or costume depends as much on the foundation worn under it as the design of the outfit itself.

Many women by wearing the proper fitted foundations can even wear a dress smaller than before. An all-in-one will give slim, tapered lines and the smooth, flowing curves which the return of Edwardian elegance in fashion demands. Other figures are flattered with a high-top girder properly fitted. Both give midriff control and the elongated torso line needed.

Women want to wear the higher lines of the Empire look. When it comes to foundations, they don't know where the bust should be placed. They may be wearing the Already a treasured legend in sports, though she has been dead only a handful of weeks, Babe Didrikson won the 1932 Olympic girls' hurdles, javelin pitch and missed winning the high jump because her type of leap was considered illegal, although it long since has been adopted. She probably would have won every other track and field event for women if she had been permitted to enter them all.

Drag Strip Group Has Board Meeting

The board of directors of Drag Strip met Thursday at the home of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, with Miss Faye Price as acting chairman. Board members attending were J. Keeping Up With Hollywood by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 29—(INS)—You can all relax now—all you actresses who wanted to play Helen Morgan, the most sought after role since Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone With The Wind." Anna Blyth gets the plum and will report the first of the year.

Thirty young actresses were interviewed and at least 15 tested. Michael Curtiz, the director, Richard Whorf, the producer, and Jack Warner, the boss, all agreed on Ann.

It might seem to be off-beat casting, but remember, Ann did a terrific job in "Mildred Pierce," which Mike also directed.

The luncheon Esther Williams had at Romanoff's with Jerry Wald was not just for the pleasure of eating with him. She discussed with Jerry making a picture based on a short one-act play "The Long Goodbye," by Tennessee Williams. This story has none of the usual Williams dirt and is about an ex-beauty contest winner and a devoted brother.

Esther told me she goes to Italy in April to make "The Islander" with Jeff Chandler for Universal-International. Sounds like a gory tale with Jeff trying to drown Esther—but now who could ever drown Esther? She takes her ever-loving husband, Ben Gage, and the children with her.

No more guessing about who will be Bing Crosby's leading lady in "Man On Fire." It's lovely Broadway Actress Mary Fickett who replaced Deborah Kerr in "Tea And Sympathy."

Miss Fickett flew out to make her screen test at MGM and now she'll await the arrival of Bing from Florida and the start of the picture on Dec. 20.

Sol Siegel, the producer, and Director Ronald MacDougall who have been searching for new faces and new talents all over New York, tell me that Bing will be the only "familiar face" in the cast.

A delighted Francis X. Bushman, richer by the $30,000 he picked up on the big surprise TV show, flew back to Hollywood Wednesday morning accompanied by his charming bride. It's really wonderful all these nice things coming the way of the former matinee idol after he had had it pretty bleak for several years. At an age when most men are thinking of "old rockin' chair," he's found love again—and all that money! To top it off, he's been offered the role of Moses in "The Story Of Man-kind" at Warners.

I had such a nice letter from the Bushmans from New York telling me of their happiness.

Just like Santa Claus, Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer are flying over the Pole (via Scandinavian Airlines) to spend Christmas with Mel's two children Mark and Pepa. I hope Audrey and Mel enjoy the holiday relaxation—because after new year's they won't have a spare moment.

First, the Ferrers co-star in NBC's spectacular "Meyerling." Then they're off to Broadway where Mel directs Cecil Beaton's play "The Gainsborough Girls" based on the life of famed portrait painter Thomas Gainsborough. This is Ferrer's first directorial work on Broadway since he megged Joe Ferrer's stage revival of "Cyrano de Bergerac."

Three Persons Hurt In Series Of Accidents

Runaway Truck Hits Embankment

Three persons were admitted to area hospitals yesterday afternoon as a result of a variety of highway accidents. They included a driver who leaped from a runaway truck, a driver who rammed into a bridge abutment and a motorist who crashed into an unattended car parked along the highway.

Maryland State Police, who were kept busy with the wave of accidents, reported that none of the drivers was seriously hurt.

Injured in the accidents were: William Raymond Gilchrist, 29, of Akron, Ohio, driver of a truck owned by Abe Feldstein, local junk dealer. He is a patient in Miners Hospital, Frostburg, with a possible fracture of his right arm and undetermined injuries of his back. His condition is "good."

James Michael Ruby, 25, of RFD 2, Flintstone, who was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital with multiple lacerations of his face, possible fractured nose and concussion, is reported in "fairly good" condition.

Clyde H. Settle, 38, of 86 Linden Street, Frostburg, is reported in "good" condition at Miners Hospital with possible chest injuries. X-rays are to be taken.

Trooper D. A. Tucker said Gilchrist was traveling along State Route 55 about 1:45 p. m. yesterday about 200 feet south of the intersection of U. S. Route 40 and Route 55 at Clarysville.

Ditches Truck

He was driving a tractor-trailer loaded with steel mine rails and was going north on Route 55 down a sharp grade. When the brakes apparently failed, the driver geared the truck down, but after traveling some distance, the vehicle's gears disengaged. When Gilchrist was unable to re-engage them he steered the truck sharply to the right of the highway off the road and leaped from the cab.

Police said the tractor hit an embankment on the east side of the highway and overturned, spewing the rails onto the highway.

Trooper J. F. Lewis, who investigated the accident in which Ruby was injured, said the driver of the car was traveling east on U. S. Route 40 about 11 miles east of Flintstone.

Rams Abutment

He failed to negotiate a curve and rammed into a bridge abutment on the south side of the highway. The accident occurred about 3:25 p. m.

In the third accident, which was investigated by Tfc. Harry S. Bosley, Settle was driving along State Route 36 at Shaft.

While traveling north Settle struck a parked car along the highway, owned by Mildred Spates of Frostburg.

Heavy property damage was caused to both vehicles. An investigation is continuing.

Boy Charged With Murder Faces Tests

The State's Attorney's Office yesterday asked a psychiatric examination for Melvin "Johnny" Gordon after obtaining a warrant charging the 15-year-old boy with the murder of his father, Jacob Donald Gordon, 49, of Rawlings.

The examination will be conducted over the weekend by a local psychiatrist, officials said. Edwin R. Liya, county investigator, secured the warrant yesterday morning from Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick.

The lad was allowed yesterday afternoon to attend the funeral services for his father, who died Tuesday night as a result of a shot from a .22 caliber rifle.

He attended the rites in the custody of two deputy sheriffs, and was taken to County Jail.

Volunteer Firemen Meet Tomorrow

The regular monthly meeting of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the fire hall at Bloomington.

George Comp, of the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Company, will be in charge of the meeting.

Kettle House Opens

The Christmas season officially opened yesterday for thousands of Allegany countians as the Salvation Army erected its traditional kettle house at Baltimore and Centre streets. First contributor was Mrs. Carl Bowman of Westernport, who happened by and dropped in a dollar as the photographer was posing Advisory Board members John Ankeney and Mayor Roy

W. Eves with Captain Daniel K. Biggs. The photographer suggested she retrieve the bill so he could get a picture of the first contributor. "Never mind," she said, "I'll put in another one." And she did. Mrs. Bowman explained that she had been looking for the kettle house, "because I always start my Christmas shopping that way."

Dystrophy Officials Here Planning To Expand Area

Officials of the Allegany-Garrett County Muscular Dystrophy Association chapter, meeting last night in the office of Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker at Central Fire Station, discussed the possibility of enlarging the present area served by MD assistance.

Sitting in on the meeting was N. C. Phillips, national MDA representative from New York who came to Cumberland to discuss the annual drive which ended yesterday, and also future plans of the two-county association.

James E. Robertson, president of the chapter, led the discussion group. After Mr. Phillips had spoken on a misunderstanding concerning a "march" from door-to-door during the campaign, Mr. Robertson pointed out that persons who gave during the drive, especially workers employed at local plants, would not particularly care to give additional contributions when someone knocked on the door at their home.

Mr. Robertson said contributors are tiring of the "double contact." It was pointed out the four largest industrial plants in Cumberland were willing to give to the drive on behalf of the employees provided the workers were not contacted at home.

Mr. Robertson explained that canisters had been distributed in business places and individual envelopes distributed to local homes. He recommended that in future drives "door-to-door marches" be omitted.

State Senator Charles M. See, a member of the association's board, advocated that the area covered include Cumberland, Allegany-Garrett counties and also communities within a 75-mile radius.

Francis A. Kenney, another member, pointed out that the area should cover normal commuting distances of employees of local industrial plants.

Mr. Phillips said he would discuss the proposed plans with national headquarters and later take up plans for a charter change discussed during the meeting.

With the inclusion of a greater area, more residents of nearby West Virginia and Pennsylvania could receive the MDA services in the event they contract the disease.

The work of picking up the canisters placed throughout Cumberland and the two counties, as well as some neighboring West Virginia communities, will take place next week.

Nurse Accidentally Turns In Alarm
A nurse at Memorial Hospital was going about her duties late yesterday afternoon when she accidentally tripped a fire alarm box at the institution, sending two fire companies and the 85-foot aerial ladder to the scene.

Box 612 was tripped about 5:27 p. m. Engine Company No. 1 at Central, Company No. 2 at South End, and the aerial ladder rushed to the hospital.

In another alarm last night, West Side firemen extinguished a small grass fire which was burning near the subway on Greene Street. The call came in about 7:40 p. m.

Baptist Union Plans M-Night Meeting

The Western District Baptist Training Union Association will observe M-Night on Monday at First Baptist Church, Bedford and Columbia streets.

Mrs. P. E. Berry, Westernport, association director, will be in charge of the business meeting which will open at 7:30 p. m.

Work for the coming year will be outlined at the mobilization meeting.

Dr. Clarence Cranford, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., will be the principal speaker.

Sentence Imposed

Juvenile Court Magistrate Morris Baron yesterday sentenced John Glenn Smith, 26, Grand to be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the fire hall at Bloomington.

House of Correction for violation of parole imposed on a charge of failure to support his wife and three minor children.

Bear (Dead One) Presented To Comm. Keegan

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan has a bear on his hands.

The large black bear is strung up in front of Police Headquarters and yesterday attracted hundreds of visitors to the building.

Commissioner Keegan said the animal was sent to him yesterday by Joe Troili, a Queen City Brewery salesman from Johnstown, Pa., who shot it in that state.

Mr. Keegan said he has made arrangements to have the animal butchered early next week.

Episcopalians Set Services

Episcopal churches in this area will mark the beginning of the Episcopal Liturgical new year tomorrow with special services observing Advent Sunday.

Advent Corporate Communion services will be held for men and boys.

Emmanuel Episcopal will hold men's services at 8 a. m. followed by a communion breakfast at 8:45 a. m. Eric Gibbs will be the speaker.

Holy Cross Church will conduct its service at 7:30 p. m. with the communion breakfast to start at 8 a. m. Robert Little Ebert will address the group.

St. Philip's will mark Advent Sunday with a corporate communion at 11:30 a. m. with breakfast following at 12:30 p. m. Mr. Ebert will be the speaker.

St. George's Episcopal, Mt. Savage, will mark the occasion with men and boys' communion at 7:30 a. m. William L. Wilson Jr. will speak on "The Need of the Giver to Give," at the breakfast at 8 a. m.

Communion at 7:30 a. m. will be held at St. John's Episcopal, Frostburg. The breakfast will be at 8 a. m. with Horace P. Whitworth Jr. as speaker. St. James' Westernport, plans Advent communion at 7:30 a. m.

Can Club To Meet

The Cana Club will meet tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Deakin, 945 Braddock Road. Members and their families will receive communion at SS. Peter and Paul Church at the 9:30 a. m. mass tomorrow.

Library Branch To Mark Silver Anniversary Here

The South End branch of the Cumberland Free Public Library, located at Pennsylvania Avenue School, will mark its 25th anniversary with a party next Thursday.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, announced that plans are being made for an "open house" which will be held from 7 p. m. to 8:30 p. m., and the public is being extended a cordial invitation.

The branch, which was opened December 6, 1931, had an initial collection of about 1,200 books and was located in a section of the Penn Avenue High School library.

Miss Lois V. Fisher, now employed at the Second National Bank, was the first librarian. She held that post for about 12 years and was succeeded by Mrs. Nora Troxell, who is now librarian at Valley High School.

$60,000 Sought In Suits Filed In Local Court

Youth Injured In Car Crash

The father of an area youth has filed two damage suits in Allegany County Circuit Court seeking a total of $60,000 for injuries incurred by his son in an auto accident last year near Nave's Crossroad.

Francis Roche, of RD 2, city, through his attorney, Earl E. Manges, is suing Glendon Michael and James A. Michael, also of RD 2, city, for injuries sustained by his son, David J. Roche, a minor, who was riding in a car operated by Glendon Michael.

The accident occurred on February 18, 1955 about 10:30 p. m. as the car was traveling east on U. S. Route 40 about one mile east of Cumberland at the Nave's Crossroad intersection.

According to the declarations, the operator of the car, which was owned by James A. Michael, was driving the vehicle in "a dangerous and careless manner" and at highly excessive speeds and it ran into a car standing on the highway.

As a result of the impact the boy was injured, sustaining lacerations and contusions and required hospital and medical care as well as plastic surgery.

He also sustained large and permanent scars on his body and face and his father is claiming $50,000. The father is seeking $10,000 from the defendants as the accident caused him to expend large sums of money for medical care, hospitalization and other expenses.

November Marriage Licenses Number 216

During the month of November some 216 marriage licenses were issued at Allegany County Court House, an increase of eight over the same period last year.

However the number issued for the first 11 months this year is 23 less than in 1955. Last year a total of 2,817 licenses were issued for the entire 12-month period, and up until yesterday when the Court House closed there were 2,525 licenses issued.

And a glance at the monthly figures shows that June, July and August are the three months when Dan Cupid is his busiest.

ABL Officials Ask New Bridge Over Potomac

Seek Replacement Of 1-Lane Span

Plans for a campaign to secure a new bridge across the Potomac River at Pinto were formulated at a meeting of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory officials with Allegany County legislators.

Duane H. Little, plant manager, was spokesman for the firm at a meeting Thursday night with Senator Charles M. See and the Allegany County Delegation.

The plant, Mr. Little said, is interested in a new bridge and underpass at Pinto. He pointed out that the present one-way span has a 6,000-pound load limit and is inadequate for tractor-trailers.

The bridge is the only route from the plant to Route 220 or Route 40, unless vehicles use W. Va. Route 9 over a narrow and winding road to Route 22.

Statement To Be Prepared

Citing the importance of defense work done at the local plant, Senator See suggested that senators and congressmen from this area be asked to aid in the project, since Federal funds are available for crossing elimination projects.

Agreement was reached that a joint statement will be prepared by officials of the plant, Allegany County and the county legislators.

When the statement is prepared, efforts will be made to hold a joint meeting here, attended by plant officials, federal, state and county legislators and the West Virginia and Maryland road commissions.

Gorman E. Getty, county attorney, was asked to prepare the county statement, and Del. George R. Hughes Jr., the position of Sen. See and the Delegation.

The Senator pointed out that bridges which connect states should be owned by the state, since it should not be necessary for a county to deal with road officials of another state.

Owned By County

The bridge is owned by Allegany County. It is on one of a number of roads turned over to the county some years ago by the State Roads Commission.

The legislators also met with the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

Topics included the appointment of a plumbing inspector for the company, zoning and junk yard legislation.

Harry Kauffman, representing LaVale, reviewed a proposal for zoning the district.

The legislators informed him they will study the proposal and that that the proposed bill will have to include plans for a referendum.

W. Earle Cobey discussed a plan to give the commissioners more power to regulate junk yards.

Getty pointed out that the plan to appoint a plumbing inspector provides only for the inspector to see that state plumbing laws are adhered to, and that his check would be similar to that made on electrical work.

Marean Is Checking Sewage Job

Takes Over During Kidd's Illness

William H. Marean has been named project engineer for the city in the construction of the Cumberland Sewage Treatment plant during the illness of Edward A. Kidd, who has supervised the project from its beginning.

Mr. Kidd, a member of the staff of Robert T. Regeister, consulting engineer for the project, became ill last Friday and was admitted to Memorial Hospital. He is reported much improved.

A former assistant city engineer, Mr. Marean was asked this week by Mr. Regeister to take over the supervision of the project, which will be completed next spring.

While here, the consulting engineer inspected work under way at the Lake Gordon filter plant and at the sewage plant, and reported progress or both, according to Commissioner William J. Edwards, who accompanied him on the tour.

Heart Board Sets Campaign Quota: $16,015

Reports Submitted At Quarterly Meet

A budget and campaign quota of $16,015 was adopted last night at the quarterly meeting of the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association in Central YMCA.

John E. Geare, chairman of the association's finance committee, submitted the budget and outlined in detail the various items.

A complete analysis is being prepared for publication, he noted.

Ernest B. Treat, association president, said the budget may fall short of the cost of operation for the fiscal period beginning next July 1, because of the acceleration in demand for services of the organization. However, board members agreed that the budget should be kept as low as possible and that the February campaign target amount be $16,015. Last year, over $12,500 was raised in the February drive in the two counties.

Chairman Introduced

James W. Bishop, general Heart Fund campaign chairman for 1957, was introduced to the board and association members. He said his campaign organization is being formed, branch chairmen will be appointed in each respective community and quotas will be assigned to each community based upon population and services being rendered.

The board, which meets four times a year, heard reports from the regular monthly meetings of the executive committees. A vacancy on the Garrett County section of the board, caused by death, was filled by election of Mrs. Irvin Feld of Oakland. Another vacancy on the Garrett County section, created by the resignation of Mrs. Wilda Fahey of Grantsville, was filled by election of Mrs. Harry Edwards of Grantsville. Also present from Garrett County were Daniel Hershberger of Grantsville, Mrs. Irva Mickey, Grantsville, Mrs. William Hensen, Oakland, and Dr. Arthur F. Jones, Oakland.

Brian O'Connell, Baltimore, state executive director of the Maryland Heart Association, spoke briefly on the advancements being made in research and other phases of the Heart program, and also exhibited a film on fund campaigns.

Work Outlined

Mrs. Ora Mae Lewis, director of the local association, outlined in detail work being done in the two counties. She covered the Heart program in three phases: (1) research, (2) education, and (3) community service.

An increase in the number of heart patients being served by the association, and the number of rheumatic fever patients being supplied with bicillin, has added greatly to the costs of operation, she noted, and has also necessitated more home visits and more travel than had previously been anticipated. Her records show that most phases of the community service program have tripled in scope in the past nine months.

Among the board members present were Ernest B. Treat, Thomas Conlon, John Coburn, William A. Wilson, Mrs. Rachael James, F. Allan Weatherholt, William H. Eisenberger, Mrs. A. W. German, and John E. Geare, in addition to the members from Garrett County and a score of branch chairmen, district representatives and volunteers.

The board urged Mr. Bishop to proceed immediately with his organization of the February drive for funds, and pledged their full support and cooperation.

Appeal Is Filed

Mildred Ensinger, of 226 Pear Street, yesterday applied to the Board of Zoning Appeals for a hearing on an application to use her dwelling as a store for the sale of notions, cosmetics and clothing.

State Employees Ask Shorter Work Week

Eckhart PTA Cites Drainage Problem

Proposals were made last night to Allegany County legislators by spokesmen for Maryland Classified Employees, the Maintenance Division of the State Roads Commission here and the Eckhart Parent-Teacher Association.

Major request of the Classified and SRC workers was for a 40-hour week.

Harmon Robinette, president of the local chapter of the Maryland Classified Employees' Association, urged Senator Charles M. See and the Allegany County Delegation to support the legislative program of that state group.

Ask Shorter Week

The major objective, he said, is for a 40-hour week for all state workers.

Also appearing before the legislators were representatives of the SRC's Maintenance Division here.

Charles Robertson was spokesman for the group, which urged the reduction of the work week from 45 to 40 hours, with no reduction in weekly wages, and unemployment compensation for SRC workers.

The county legislators said the request for unemployment compensation would have to come from a state-wide bill, since the protection is not available for state workers.

Drainage Cited

The delegation also asked that wages be boosted in line with prevailing rates. Laborers, they cited, get $1.35 from the SRC and, like other state workers, straight time for overtime work.

Earlier last night, Mrs. Claude Ward, heading a delegation from the Eckhart PTA briefed the legislators on a drainage problem at the school.

Water drains from U. S. 40 to the school ground, which is only partially blacktopped. Water lying on the dirt portions, they said, makes the area unsuitable for use after rains.

The legislators said they would confer with the State Roads Commission on the problem.

Funeral Set Monday For C. A. Beck

WESTERNPORT — A funeral service for C. Albert Beck, 55, manager of wood procurement at the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, who died Thursday night at University Hospital in Baltimore, will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. in Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church.

Rev. Robert E. Cassell, former pastor, will officiate and interment will be in Philos Cemetery where Masonic rites will be held. The body is at the Boal Funeral Home and will be taken to the church at 11 a. m. Monday for the service.

Mr. Beck, husband of Mrs. Beulah (White) Beck, 325 Maryland Avenue, underwent surgery at the hospital 10 days ago. His widow is a member of the faculty of Hammond Street School.

He had been employed at the Luke mill since March 20, 1917, and was named manager of wood procurement on November 1, 1949.

Mr. Beck was past master of Hiram Lodge 103, AF and AM, having served in 1927 and 1941 and a member of the reinstatement committee of the Grand Lodge of Maryland.

Two Local Youths Enlist In Marines

Two local youths enlisted in the Marine Corps this week at the local recruiting station, according to T/Sgt. Clifton Shotwell, recruiter in charge.

Donald Atkinson, son of Mrs. Edith Atkinson, Jane Frazier Village, and Dennis Melvin Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Boyd of Bowman's Addition, enrolled for three and four years respectively.

Both men have been assigned to Parris Island, S. C., for basic training.
